German Cease Mining of Coal
As British Forces Near

AUSTRIANS ARE ACTIVE

Capture of Positions Recently
Taken By Italians Object
of New Offensive

The slow but sure encirclement of the principal coal center held by the Germans in the department of the Somme, is in process of consummation by the Canadians. Having already during the present week captured important vantage points at and southwest of the town a fresh dash at the German line has been guarded by the occupation of the village of Loeuclotte, situated a mile to the south.

With the British forces virtually encircling the town, except on the north, the Germans already have ceased mining of coal in the immediate vicinity of Lens, thereby seemingly indicating that they realize that their position is short lived, though the British war office, aside from the operations around Lens, reports no activity by Field Marshal Haig's men rising in importance above the patrol sorties. The Berlin war office asserts that heavy artillery fire is in progress at various points where enormous quantities of ammunition are being used. Reading between the lines of the German report is apparent that the British are pressing and it is possible that General Haig is paying the way for a series of new thrusts against the German line.

RUSSIA SLOWLY DEMOLISH RHEIMS

The infantry activity in the region even Soissons and Rheims has in any way entirely to artillery duels the sector of Moulin de Laffaux a continuance by the Germans of slow demolition of Rheims with fire. Monday night saw an engagement of considerable proportions west of the Hurtelise farm where French captured the German first trenches and took more than 300 prisoners.

Berlin in admitting the gain by the French, the German crown prince's loss somewhat by the assertion that in counter-attacks his army captured the greater portion of the terrain.

The Austrians are taking the initiative from the Italians in the Asiago sector of the Austro-Italian front. Their objective is Monte Grappa but the Italians are valiantly fighting them back and according to last Rome communication had incurred heavy casualties on them. The battle was still in progress when the communication was forwarded.

Although no big engagement has yet developed, lively fighting continues even the Russians and Austrians southwest of Lutsk in Volhynia, and between the Stripa and Dniester rivers. Has come from either Petrograd or Berlin to show the extent of the operations.

It seems probable, that all other efforts having failed, Venezuela, former ally and a staunch supporter of the entente, will form a new Greek front. Unofficial advice is to the effect that the approaching sessions of the Greek parliament a resolution regarding the entry of Greece into the war on the side of the entente will be adopted.

AUSTRIANS WOULD RETRIEVE LOSSES

Rome, Italy, June 26.—Austrian troops making desperate efforts to recapture positions recently taken by the Italians in the Trentino. The war office announced today that the Austrians notwithstanding heavy losses, continued since last night their attacks, which were being met by Italian counter-attacks.

On the Asiago plateau fighting was most violent. Since last night troops have opposed the desperate efforts of the enemy, who, notwithstanding his heavy losses, is attempting to retake the positions recently taken by the Italians in the Asiago sector. Attacks and counter-attacks are being fought on the contested positions. Fighting at the same time by the Austrians completely stopped.

On the Carso front last night our troops achieved somewhat the advance of the front line south of Versic.

The aircraft were very active yesterday. The enemy machine was shot down by battery fire and fell in its own lines north of Asiago. The night our aircraft bombed the works at Nebrassina and Prad. All returned safely.

At the same time it was announced that the life of Harold A. Content, the federal assistant district attorney, who will try the case, had been threatened in letters he received.

ROUT SUFFRAGE FORCE ON WHITE HOUSE LAWN

LEADERS ARE ARRESTED FOLLOWING DISPLAY OF BANNERS

Washington, D. C., June 26.—More than a dozen suffragists were arrested yesterday by the police when they marched in front of the White House, lined up against the fence and unfurled suffrage banners. A crowd of hundreds watched the arrests, but there was no disorder.

This was the fourth demonstration of the day. The other times the women marched quietly past the White House and back again without unfurling their banners and they were not disturbed by the police.

Just after 1:30, however, when employees began to pour out of the near-by departments, a squad of women, each carrying a folded banner, started in single file to march in front of the White House from east to west. When they reached the end of the block they turned and started back still with the banners unfurled.

Reaching the middle of the block immediately in front of the White House at a signal every banner was thrown to the breeze and the women stood silent as close to the iron pickets of the fence as possible. The police, who had been watching them nearby, arrested the most of them and took them in automobiles to headquarters.

The women all were released on personal bonds, after appearing at headquarters, giving their names, ages and occupations. No time was set for a hearing on the formal charge of blocking traffic.

There were 19 women in the parade. Fourteen were arrested as follows: Mrs. Mable Vernon, Nevada; Catherine Morley, Boston; Maude Jamison, Norfolk; Lucy Burns, New York; Florence Youmans, Minnesota; Bertha Crone, San Francisco; Virginia Arnold, North Carolina; Lavinia Dock, Philadelphia; Pauline Clarke, New York; Martha Hickey, Washington, D. C.; Elizabeth Stuyvesant, Cincinnati; Mrs. Alexander Shields, Texas; Mrs. Anne Arnet, Delaware, and Mrs. Townsend Scott, Baltimore.

REPRISALS NOT SOUGHT FOR GERMAN AIR RAIDS

ENGLAND SCORNS BEING LOWERED TO GERMANY'S LEVEL

London, England, June 26.—No intention of yielding to the widespread demand for reprisals on German towns for the German air raid on England was shown in a debate on the subject today in the house of lords, the question having been raised by Lord Strathairn, Baron Sydenham, former chairman of the air board, deprecated the policy of reprisals. He said that he felt sure that in future years the British would be thankful they had not lowered themselves to the level of the Germans. Furthermore, it was not generally realized that bombing reprisals of a military nature were a systematic and daily occurrence behind the German lines. He invited the government to tell the country something about these operations.

On behalf of the government, the Earl of Derby, minister of war, expressed belief that the whole country would associate itself with the suggestion that England should not try to imitate German brutality. He added, on the authority of the head of the air staff service in France, that for every bomb the Germans dropped behind the British line, the British dropped a hundred behind the German line. This bombing, he said, had a solely military object and the government considered that nothing should be done to tie the hands of the military authorities in the employment of the air craft at their disposal in the best way to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

Registration Meets Estimates

Albany, June 27.—Returns received at the state census headquarters here indicate that registration will come fully up to the estimate, according to Captain C. G. Henry, state director. Figures thus far received indicate a drift in the population from the country to the city since 1915.

EVADES QUERIES ON CRUGER CASE

Detective's Attitude Prompts Request That He Be Tried

NEGLIGENCE CHARGED

Two Policemen Are Detailed to Go to Italy to Get Cocchi in Case of Extradition

New York, June 26.—After a grilling cross examination of Detective Sergeant Lagarenne regarding the search for Ruth Cruger, murdered Italian school student, in which many damaging admissions were made, Leonard M. Walstein, who is conducting Mayor Mitchell's investigation into the police handling of the case, announced tonight that he would ask Police Commissioner Woods to place the detective on trial on charges of gross and wilful negligence.

Detective Evades Pertinent Questions.

Too many of the commissioner's questions Lagarenne made no reply and to others, he used the evasion, "I don't recall," "I can't answer," and "I am not sure." Asked if he had been working on the theory that Miss Cruger was a runaway girl, Lagarenne replied, "I believe she might have been enticed away."

"What line of inquiry did you pursue other than the theory that she was a runaway girl?" asked Commissioner Walstein.

"No other," the detective answered.

Lagarenne testified that after Miss Helen Cruger had told him she had found Alfredo Cocchi's motorcycle shop closed on several visits to the place, even then his suspicions were not aroused. It was in the cellar of Cocchi's shop that Miss Cruger's body was found.

"Did this not create some suspicion in your mind as to Cocchi's guilt in causing Miss Cruger's disappearance," the detective was asked.

"No," he replied.

"Why didn't it?" the commissioner demanded.

"Because Cocchi had been frank in his statement to me and because he appeared to be willing to answer all questions."

"Did you believe Cocchi when he talked with you?"

"I did," was the answer.

Recalls Searching Cocchi's Shop

Lagarenne said he didn't recall whether Henry D. Cruger, the murdered girl's father had told him he believed his daughter had met with foul play in Cocchi's shop. He said he had made a thorough search of the place and could find nothing that might have been used to kill the girl. After describing a search of the shop Lagarenne was asked why he did not ask Cocchi to remove the tool bench which covered the hole where Miss Cruger was buried.

"I don't know," he said.

"Was it because you were afraid to ask Cocchi?" the commissioner inquired.

"No. Because I was not suspicious," replied the detective.

Lagarenne said he reported to Detective Captain Cooper his investigation of Cocchi's character, but when asked why he had not informed Cooper of Miss Helen Cruger's suspicions he made no answer.

Lieutenant Williams, to whom Helen Cruger testified yesterday she was referred to at police headquarters when she took a letter from "former Police Commissioner McKay to Inspector Faurot regarding her sister's disappearance, made a full record of Miss Cruger's complaints and had given it to Faurot, who is investigating the case for Police Commissioner Woods. He also called upon the detective branch bureau in the district in which Miss Cruger lived, he said, and gave them the evidence she had brought to headquarters. He added Miss Cruger had complained to him of the way the detectives of that branch were investigating the case.

Detail Police to Get Cocchi

Inspector Faurot said he received so many reports he could not remember Miss Cruger's, but he believed it had been turned over to the branch bureau. Two detectives have been assigned to go to Italy to bring back Cocchi should the Italian government grant his extradition. In any event, it was stated, the policemen will be sent to Italy. It had not been decided whether representatives of the district attorney will accompany them.

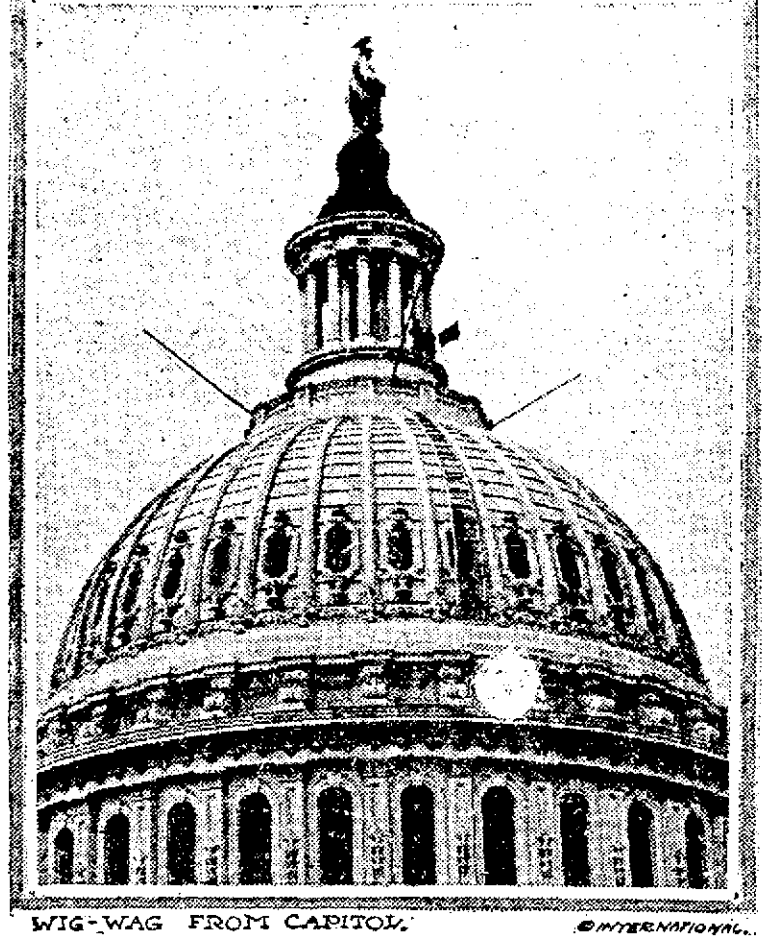

In reference to Rev. Father Jasper Moretti, manager of a home for immigrants, who heard Cocchi's confession before he fled to Italy, District Attorney Swann pointed out that a section of the penal law protects a priest from divulging what is heard in a confessional.

What the authorities feared might be another Ruth Cruger case was cleared tonight when Eula May Stratteley, 15 years old, who disappeared Sunday night, returned to her home. Seventy-five detectives began a search for her today.

Another Cruger Case Feared

Shortly after the inquiry was resumed today it became known that the police were investigating the disappearance of another girl, Eula May Stratteley, 15-year-old daughter of the superintendent of a Riverside drive apartment house. She left her home Sunday afternoon to go for a walk and did not return. This afternoon 25 detectives and 50 patrolmen were rushed to a Harlem police station un-

NATION REPLIES TO RED CROSS APPEAL WITH CONTRIBUTION OF $140,000,000

Washington, D. C., June 26.—The nation's contribution to the Red Cross in response to the call for a $100,000,000 war fund, was estimated at $140,000,000 tonight by Henry H. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross war council.

"This figure assumes," said Mr. Davidson, "that stockholders in companies which have declared special dividends amounting to $20,000,000 will turn their dividends over to the Red Cross."

The policies of the Red Cross in expending this sum, Mr. Davidson said in a statement thanking the millions of contributors, will be to "conduct all our work with the utmost publicity, and to take the public as completely as possible into our confidence." Primarily the fund will be devoted to the needs of American soldiers and sailors and secondarily for relief work among the allies. Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago will head the Red Cross commission of more than 20 experts to be sent to Russia to study needs there. His statement follows:

"Local chapters of the Red Cross are entitled to retain for their own work 25 per cent of the amount collected, but it is very evident that the national Red Cross will have a generous fund with which to begin its tremendous task."

"No time will be lost by the Red Cross in its efforts to accomplish results with the large resources with which it now has been supplied. Some of the plans which are being developed and which we hope promptly to carry into execution are the following: First and foremost, we shall provide, as we shall be called upon by the army and navy, for the care and safety of our soldiers and sailors wherever they may be."

"We shall provide funds whereby the American Red Cross commission may take over administration of American relief work in France. Ma-

OLYMPIA RUNS ASHORE; ONE FATALITY RESULTS

THICK FOG CAUSE OF MISHAP TO DEWEY'S OLD FLAGSHIP

Block Island, R. I., June 26.—The United States cruiser Olympia, Admiral Dewey's battleship at the battle of Manila, ran ashore in the fog off Block Island, early today. The cruiser was reported in a bad condition, with considerable water in her hold. Chief Machinist Mate William N. Babb lost his life when he was hit on the head by a falling hatch. No other fatalities were reported.

Warships and wrecking vessels were standing by the ship tonight. The sea remained calm, but it was reported that as a precautionary measure a part of the crew had been taken off. The Olympia put out yesterday for target practice and it is supposed she struck during the thick fog which stretched far out from the shore. Details of her exact position could not be learned here.

The Olympia was recently assigned as the flag ship of the coast patrol fleet of the second naval district. Immediately after she had flashed out word of her accident, members of the patrol fleet were going to her assistance, but it was found that the famous old warship was in no immediate danger of breaking up. Chief Machinist Mate Babb was killed as he was coming up on deck. His next of kin is his mother, Mrs. Sarah Babb, who lives at Reading, Pa.

THE HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

World War Affords Subjects For Inspiring Orations and Essays

2 MEMBERS JOIN COLORS

Diplomas Presented By Supt. Dann and Prizes By Principal Bridgman

Beyond doubt the most enthusiastic cheers at the annual commencement exercises of the Oneonta High School, held last evening, greeted the names of Dorman Long and Frank Wolcott, when called to receive their diplomas at the hands of Supt. Dann, the announcement, when they failed to appear, that they had joined the colors being the inspiration for the cheers, which were prolonged. True Mr. Seybolt aroused much enthusiasm by his fine effort on The Rise of Democracy, as did Miss Shaffer when she portrayed in fitting language the Debt of the United States to France, and Mr. Pendleton as well with his well worded tribute to the Heroic in American Character or Miss Cook in her exceedingly complimentary references to President Wilson in The Man of the Hour, while Mr. Clapp well voiced the influence and relation to each other of Education and War, and Miss Haney commended highly the Relief Work in Belgium; yet the cheers of the student body and the friends present for the young men who have responded to our country's call were prolonged, hearty and inspiring. It was, however, a tribute to the orations and essays, for in their delivery the audience had been aroused in patriotic fervor—the efforts of each speaker being well calculated to inspire admiration for the young men first to go to the front as volunteers.

The exercises as a whole were of much excellence, attesting a high standard of scholastic and moral excellence for the entire class. The incessant downpour both before and during the exercises affected the attendance somewhat, despite which discouragement, however, the gathering was large and indicative of a growing interest in the school and its excellent work for the boys and girls of the city. Seated upon the rostrum, in addition to the members of the class, numbering 53, with few absences, were Superintendent Dann and Principal Bridgman, the members of the board of education and Rev. Mr. Johns of the Methodist Episcopal church.

After music by Wolcott's orchestra the invocation was offered by Rev. B. M. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

An essay, Relief Work in Belgium, was well given by Miss May Haney. She outlined the relief work that had been done by the American commission in this stricken country under the capable direction of Herbert C. Hoover, how all classes of people had responded nobly to the call of this stricken land. She urged that the work be carried on even though the representatives of the United States had left Belgium since our entry in the world war. Her effort drew forth much applause.

Earl Clapp's oration, Education and War, was a thoughtful analysis of the subject, well worked out, in which, after emphasizing the need of education to solve both the war and after-war problems, he said that the only hope of the realization of the oft-expressed declaration that this is a war to end war lies in the education of the youth, the one certain method of inculcating an appreciation of democracy and of preparation for self-government. Education affords the only hope for the coming of the golden age, he said.

After a well-rendered selection, "Song of the Vikings," by the High school chorus, Miss Cecil Cook delivered an essay entitled, "The Man of the Hour." In part, she said: "In every great crisis of our country's history, there steps forth a man whose life is devoted to her service. In the dark days of the Revolution, the man who stood ready was Washington, appropriately called The Father of his Country. He stood for liberty and represented the people in the struggle for independence. The greatest men are those whose fame cannot be wholly accounted for by their public acts. Lincoln conveys the idea of duty rather than glory. In moral height and in human kindness he measures up to the immortal of all ages. And now when our country is confronted with the greatest crisis in its history, has not the man of the hour come forth as in the past? It surely has the soul of America been translated into action with greater force than in our President's message to congress. As Americans, then, let us be faithful to American ideals of justice, liberty and humanity. Let us stand behind our President." This timely essay was delivered in a pleasing manner and evoked much favorable comment.

"The Heroic in American Character" was presented in an excellent manner by Nathan Pendleton. He told how heroism in Europe was being displayed by soldiers on the battlefield and the wives and mothers at home. He portrayed how the Anglo-Saxon spirit had overcome slavery and oppression and with strong devotion to principle had established a nation in which liberty should be supreme. Heroism is the constant fidelity to

The Sobbing Bride.
"I expected it would come to this," sobbed the bride whose honeymoon could not yet be said to be over. "I expected it, but, oh, not so soon!"

"Has your husband been abusing you already?"

"Yes. He says I want my own way all the time."

"And he is determined not to let you have it?"

"Oh, that's the worst of it. He says he doesn't care if I have my own way, but that he-h-h-wants me to make up my mind what my own way is! Boohoo! That he should ever be so unfeeling!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BILLY MAY PREACH TO SOLDIER BOYS

Member of Pershing's Staff Wants Sunday In Europe.

ANXIOUS FOR THE WORK

Also Plans to Visit Several Training Camps Here and Knock the Devil Out For the Count of Ten—Engagements in Several Cities May Cause Abandonment of Scheme, However.

Billy Sunday, who has just closed a campaign in New York city, during which 98,264 persons "hit the sawdust trail," is going to "do his bit" for the United States. As soon as arrangements can be made and after he has rested at his home in Winona Lake, Ind., the evangelist expects to begin a series of revival campaigns in the various concentration and training camps throughout the country. He also expects to go to England and France and "knock the devil out of the trenches."

He has been asked by the Washington authorities to make the trip, and all that prevents a definite announcement of his sailing date is the fact that he has several engagements that he cannot cancel or postpone without difficulty. He is confidently hoping to be able to devote part of his vacation time before his next campaign begins in September, to religious work among the troops in American concentration camps.

The idea of carrying the gospel to the American troops has been on Sunday's mind ever since war was declared by the United States. George Sunday, Billy's son and campaign manager, discussed the idea with the Washington authorities during a recent visit to the capital, and Billy's project was warmly encouraged.

Talked With Pershing's Aid.
When the British war commission was in New York recently General G. M. T. Bridges and other members of the body discussed with Sunday the possibility of his going to England to preach. Sunday then said that he would like to undertake the work if it could be made to fit in with his engagements in America. Later a member of General Pershing's staff broached the plan to the evangelist, and Sunday enthusiastically declared he would do his best to arrange his revival dates so as to permit the undertaking.

"I don't know who it was who talked with me," he said. "I've forgotten his name, but it was a member of General Pershing's staff. He said they wanted me to go over and preach to the soldier boys. There's nothing I would like better, so I told him to fix it up with Pershing, and I'd go as soon as I could."

"I had thought of making a trip through the American camps for a month or two this summer or some time later, and I want to do it. It all hinges on what arrangements I can make with some of the cities I'm scheduled to preach in."

The Sunday committee is attempting to get Washington ministers and others who are preparing for a scheduled Sunday revival there in January and February of next year to agree to a postponement of the campaign. If it is found possible to postpone the reviving of the capital Sunday will, in all probability, leave for Europe early in the coming year.

Will Rest For Week or Two.
When he left New York he went direct to Winona Lake to rest for a week or two. He will then proceed to his apple farm in the Hood River region, Oregon. He is scheduled to open his first campaign of the fall season at Los Angeles on Sept. 4. November and December are scheduled for the campaign in Atlanta. January and February will be spent in Washington unless other arrangements are made. Other campaigns for which Sunday is booked next spring will be in Chicago and Duluth, Minn.

"I don't see how I can get away to the training camps unless some changes are made," he said. "But I'm going to do my best to go, and I guess I'll find a way."

Mrs. Sunday, convalescing after her recent serious illness, expressed herself as being sorry to leave New York. "The people have been so kind and sympathetic that I hate to leave such good friends," she said. "My illness proved how tenderly human New York folk are. I got loads of letters, flowers and other expressions of kindness from people I had never seen, but who, I suppose, had been to the tabernacle."

"The few meetings I conducted here were the best I've ever had. The Hippodrome meetings were simply wonderful. The response was amazing to me."

"I like New York more than any city we've been in. I like the shops and the general immensity of the place, but best of all I like the people who have rallied so well to hear the message my husband brought them."

Norway's Capital.
The name of Christiania dates back only 300 years. The city which preceded it was Oslo, the site of which is now included in the area of Christiania. Oslo was the ancient capital of Norway and existed some 600 years before its name was changed to Christiania. In 1624, after Oslo had been destroyed by a fire, King Christian IV, resolved, in spite of the protests of the citizens, that the site of the capital should be moved a couple of thousand yards westward to be nearer the fortress of Akershus and at the same time decided that the town when rebuilt should be named after himself.

Too Late.
Ma—I think Josephine had better study painting instead of music. Then she won't make any noise practicing. Pa—Oh, I don't know. There's an end to noise, but pictures will last for years.—Boston Transcript.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The New York Markets.

New York, June 26.—Prominence of railway shares at materially higher level was the most significant feature of today's trading, which again derived its impulse almost entirely from professional sources. The inquiry for rails was attended by reports that the interstate commerce commission would approve in large measure the request for higher rates. New rates become operative next Sunday, unless otherwise ordered.

Minor or reorganized rails figured to an unwonted extent in the rise, especially the western and southwestern divisions. Movements otherwise were no less confusing than on the preceding day.

United States Steel and related industrials denoted further pressure at extreme recessions of one to three points. Motors yielded one to five points. Studebaker being the weakest feature, and coppers, shippings and oil were restrained by adverse Washington advices.

Central Leather reacted three points to 35½, after announcement of the "extra" dividend that rate falling under general expectations. Trading, at no time active, dwindled steadily in the latter part of the session, final quotations showing irregular improvement on short covering. Total sales amounted to $10,000 shares.

COMMENCEMENT IN SCHENEVUS.

Graduation Exercises in Chase and Bennett's Hall This Evening.

Schenevus, June 26. — The commencement week exercises of the high school began most auspiciously Sunday evening with the illumination of the campus and a social evening by the students and the townspeople. Sunday night Rev. C. H. Colegrove of the Baptist church delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the graduating class and the training class. He took as his subject "The Higher Life," and from this theme preached a forceful sermon. One of the most prominent of the commencement festivities is the annual junior prom, and this year's event proved one of the most enjoyable in recent years. The patronesses were Mrs. E. F. Theyson, Mrs. C. S. Halsey, Mrs. D. S. Chase, Mrs. E. E. Boardman, Mrs. Virginia Whiteford and Mrs. Charles Hazen. The hall was most tastefully decorated with evergreen, flags and red, white and blue streamers. Tuesday was Alumni day and the members of the Alumni association and the faculty enjoyed an automobile ride to Cobleskill. This was followed by supper served by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church. Following the supper, toasts were given by members of the alumni, D. L. Campbell acting as toastmaster. Mrs. Luella Halstead represented the class of 1917. In the evening, the Class Day exercises were held in Chase & Bennett's hall. Music was furnished for the occasion by Bulson's orchestra. Ernest Gage of Maryland gave the president's address of welcome. Other numbers included the Class History by Luella Halstead, statistics by Mariam Boardman, prophecy and will by Marjorie Chase, address to the juniors by Pearl Miller, and the response by Victoria Titus, the class essay by Jessie Stickles, and a piano solo by Mrs. Deliso of Brooklyn. The commencement program will end this evening with the graduating exercises in Chase & Bennett's hall.

ABLE BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Rev. C. L. Herrick Addresses Worcester High School Graduates.

Worcester, June 26. — Owing to so many of the high school students entering the farm cadet service, the only commencement activity of the season was the baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. C. L. Herrick in the Baptist church last Sunday evening. The pastor took for his text First Thessalonians v, 21: "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." The special music, consisting of a solo by Miss Florence Starkweather and two selections by the church choir, was highly appreciated.

After the services Prof. L. L. Robinson, principal of the school, gave a short talk explaining why the regular commencement exercises had been given up, and concluded by introducing Miss Verna Gage of the Junior class, who presented the diplomas to the class of 1917, of which the following are the members: Elsie Lincoln, Nellie Hillis, Neva Mereness, Florence Clark, Harold Shafer, Theron Van Deusen, Joseph Nelson and Howard Galer.

Business-Like Clothes Buying

THERE are a lot of men in Oneonta who would laugh at any man who said he preferred oil lamps to electric lights—

BUT many of these men who consider themselves up-to-date are behind the times when they buy clothes. They haven't yet discovered that ready-made clothes, such as we show from the Kirschbaums and Hart Schaffner & Marx, are a distinct advance over the product of the custom-tailor. They still have their clothes "made-to-order"—they're still in the oil lamp stage of development—they have a vague idea that they get better fabrics, better fit, better style, better tailoring by the made-to-order process. And they're mistaken, and they don't know it—we could enlighten them very easily, we could show them the best all-wool fabrics in the world, such as few tailors have, we could show them style creations which their tailor can imitate but not originate, we could show them better workmanship than they're used to—And if the Clothes Don't Fit, They Don't Buy Them—We'd be glad of an opportunity to make a demonstration in this matter to any man.

You Can Tell the People Who Have Iron in Their Blood—Strong, Healthy, Vigorous Folks

Doctor Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Nervous, Run-down People 100% Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

New York, N. Y. — "One glance is enough to tell which people have iron in their blood," said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European medical institutions, in a recent discourse. "They are the ones that do and dare. The others are in the weakling class. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit-forming drugs and narcotics for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease and useless attempts to brace up with strong coffee or other stimulants are what keep them suffering and vainly longing to be strong. Their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. Without iron the blood has no power to change food into living tissue and, therefore, nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. The moment iron is supplied the multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the time, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of every sign of dyspepsia, liver and other trouble in from ten to fourteen days' time, simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without any benefit.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. There is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and sound, healthy flesh on your bones. But you must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated, like nuxated iron. If you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

NOTE—Nuxated iron recommended above by Dr. E. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 on any charitable institution if they cannot make any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent of over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in six days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Slade's drug store and all other druggists.

WHAT THEY ARE FIGHTING FOR

A recent bulletin sent out by the National Geographic society analyzes the attitude of mind of the German soldier and very fairly and clearly indicates what they are fighting for. It was written by Stanley Washburn, a war correspondent, who at this time is on the staff of Elhu Root in Russia, and is well worth the perusal of every person interested in the psychology of this great war. Mr. Washburn says:

"It is difficult for Americans to realize the discipline and lack of intellectual initiative which exists in the German army and among the German people.

"Ever since he became emperor, Wilhelm has been instilling his extraordinary beliefs into his army and into his people, until today we have a psychology in the Teuton empire which will probably make it possible for the military autocracy to continue the war to a far greater length than would be conceivable in any other country in the world.

"In the early nineties the Kaiser sounded the keynote of his own character and point of view in a speech he made to a regiment in northern Germany, when he said to them: 'I would rather see my forty-five million Prussians dead on the field of battle than see one foot of the soil taken in 1870 given back to France!'

"And several years later, in addressing a body of recruits in Potsdam, the Kaiser is reported to have said: 'Now that you have donned my uniform, it must be your pleasure and your duty to follow my wishes, realizing that I rule Germany by the direct will of God, and you must willingly obey my commands, even though I require you to shoot down your own fathers and brothers in response to my dictates.'

"With such ideas as these being instilled into the German army and German people year by year, we must not believe that at the first sign of reverse they will forget the teachings of 40 years and demand consummation of immediate peace."

With these things fully in mind, Mr. Washburn believes that it is folly to talk now of peace. Instead, it is our duty fully to prepare for a conflict in which, unless natural causes, such as drought or a political cataclysmic disturbance, is likely to last far beyond the present year. Mr. Washburn is a man of wide experience, of authority and judgment, and what he says should be given full consideration. The war we are entering upon is not for days, or weeks, or months; and he serves his country ill who in this world-wide emergency talks about a brief conflict and does not measure up to the conviction that the war is one in which we are entering as active and not merely as passive and end-of-conflict partisans.

CURRENT COMMENT

This nation is doing no war dancing, but it is marching forward with the resolution that gets things done.—[Buffalo Enquirer.

Young men might feel more comfortable in joining the army and navy if there were fewer Miss Nancies in congress.—[Chicago News.

Hindenburg has added an alibi to the language, anyhow. Any place you run to when you are scared is a "previously prepared position."—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

At least there should be at once sufficient government control of foodstuffs to prevent further shipments of American condensed milk to Germany, through neutral ports.—[Albany Journal.

Congress still is being accused of being hungry for pork. Before the war is over the people may assume an attitude which will compel the statesmen at Washington to change their diet.—[Troy Record.

Nothing has done more than this campaign for the Liberty loan to make the American people realize that they are at war against the most shameless autocracy that ever disgraced the world. They have put their money into the game—and it is, therefore, their game.—[Indianapolis News.

There's a good deal of talk about slackers these days, but when it comes to a showdown it may develop that some of them are merely a little slow getting started.—[Indianapolis News.

The great strength of Mr. Root's words consists in their accurate reflection of the sentiments of the country he represents, and hence of democrats throughout the world.—[New York Sun.

The American frontier today lies along the Alps and the Searge. It is there we must fight and defeat the enemy if we do not want the frontier moved to our own coast.—[Chicago Evening Post.

That verdict of $225,000 in a New York breach of promise case is proof of the high cost of justice when the plaintiff is an attractive young woman of 28 and the defendant a millionaire of 85.—[Troy Times.

New York may be slow when it comes to raising recruits, but in subscribing for over half of the first Liberty loan, it showed that it still knows a good investment when it sees it.—[Indianapolis News.

But it is not so much in what they tell or do not tell as in what, on emergency, they can be made to tell that the sporting value of "initials only" is a good example of this occurred in the South African war. A certain adjutant, who had congratulated himself on acquiring for his quarters a perfect mansion of a house, had not long been installed there before he received from the general traffic manager the message, "The G. T. M. wants the house." If this was laconic, the reply was more so. It ran: "The G. T. M. can G. T. H." But when the adjutant duly appeared at G. H. Q. to answer for this profane rebuff, he blandly pleaded not guilty, interpreting, with the sweetest of emphasis, "The General Traffic Manager can G. T. H. House." — [Manchester Guardian.

SHEEP BREEDERS' PICNIC

First Summer Outing of Otsego Association To Be Held Saturday.

The first summer outing of the Otsego County Sheep Breeders' association will be held at Cooperstown Saturday, June 30. A very attractive program has been prepared by E. A. Stanford and Alfred McDonald, the committee appointed at the Oneonta meeting last winter, and a very profitable and enjoyable outing is anticipated. Members of the association will meet at the Ironquels farm sheep barn at 10:30 sharp Saturday morning, where the fine flock there kept will be inspected. From Ironquels they go to the Glimmergen farms of W. T. Hyde, where the superb flocks of Dorset and Cheviot sheep are kept. Excellent herds of pure-bred Yorkshire cattle are also kept on both farms.

Lunch will be eaten in the grove on the lake shore near Mr. Hyde's residence, after which the members will go by launch to the Pinehurst farm of H. L. Wardwell to inspect his flock of Shropshires and his herd of Jerseys. About an hour and a half will be occupied in this trip.

Every member of the association is asked to bring with him his family, interested friends, and a good lunch. All are requested also to be on hand at 10:30 a. m. so that everything may go by schedule.

COUNTY JUDGE DENIES WRIT

Evidence Warrants Holding of Johnson and VanHoesen for Grand Jury.

In the matter of the People of the state of New York against Edward VanHoesen and Harry Johnson, arrested for robbery in the first degree and held by City Judge Shove to await action of the next grand jury, the defendants were produced before Judge Kellogg Tuesday morning upon a writ of habeas corpus and was argued by Sheldon H. Close esq. for the defendant, Johnson, and by John G. Johnson esq. for the defendant, VanHoesen. District Attorney VanHorne argued the matter on behalf of the people. After listening attentively to the arguments of the attorneys and reading over the papers and minutes in the case, and carefully deliberating upon the matter Judge Kellogg denied the motion and directed that the prisoners be turned over to Sheriff Brown to await the action of the next grand jury. The defendants were taken to Cooperstown jail last evening by Officer Horton.

Great credit is due the police force of this city and especially Officer Horton in the energy displayed in getting the evidence and bringing these defendants to court. Also credit is due Attorney Henry D. McLaury who ably represented the district attorney in preparing the evidence and properly presenting it to the court.

Heat is not a substance. It is merely the vibration of the molecules composing the material heated. Every material is made up of molecules, and each molecule is composed of atoms. Molecules of matter are held together by a force called "cohesion."

At absolute zero, colder yet than liquid air, or minus 273 degrees, all molecules are at rest. As the temperature rises the molecules begin to move to and fro. The higher the temperature is raised the further and faster swing the molecules.

Molecules are so minute that there are about one sextillion of them in a cubic inch of air. These at freezing temperature oscillate back and forth at the rate of 1,450 feet a second. The average length of their path between oscillations is about one two hundred and seventy-seven thousandth of an inch. Each comes into collision with its fellows about 5,000,000 times a second.

Soot as a Fertilizer.

Amateur gardeners recommend the use of soot as a fertilizer. Scotch soot, which is generally used in Great Britain as a fertilizer, is from coal that differs greatly from the hard coal used in the eastern United States. Soot from our hard coal must be used with caution around plants or it may do more harm than good, particularly immediately after the application. A sad experience several years ago leads a gardener to warn others so they may not be obliged to gain their knowledge by a like unfortunate experience.—New York Sun.

The month's prize for the most atrocious joke goes to the Kansas editor who admonished his readers in the following words: "In order to combat the constantly soaring cost of living, we advise our readers to biplane food." It was a nice murder.—Michigan Gar-

Big Fight Opened in Senate to Save Beer and Wines

Despite the fact that the Prohibitionists in congress have a clear majority in the senate, dispatches from Washington indicate that it is unlikely that the senate will accept the bone-dry amendment to the food bill as passed by the house. Senator Gore, a total abstainer, and a representative of a dry state, is chairman of the committee that will get the Lever bill when it goes to the senate. Senator Gore is for prohibition but hesitates to accept the bone-dry amendment in its present sweeping form at this time. Senator Kenyon, advocate of prohibition under ordinary circumstances, is quoted as saying that he believes something like the house bill will pass the senate, but that the prohibition on light wines and beers would show a very close division of sentiment. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, while not speaking for publication, is known by his colleagues to believe that the wise and sane course is to prohibit the manufacture of whiskeys and gins, and permit beers and light wines to be sold.

WRITES SONG FOR ALMA MATER

Composition from Pen of Andrew B. Saxton Read at Mummil Banquet of Hartwick Seminary Last Evening.

Editor Andrew B. Saxton, accompanied by Mrs. Saxton, was in Hartwick Seminary last evening in attendance at the annual Alumni banquet of that institution which is his alma mater. The seminary some time since, through its president, Dr. J. G. Taiver, requested Mr. Saxton to write a school song, a need which the institution has long felt. Last evening Mr. Saxton read the song which he has written, which will in the future be sung no doubt at commencement and other gatherings.

The song, which breathes the spirit of intense loyalty, is as follows:
Lift up your hands to Hartwick,
All ye whose feet have trod
As heirs to vanished ages
This consecrated sod.
Lift up your hands and voices
And for our mother's sake
Who shaped our ways in other days
A blessing give—and take.

Lift up your eyes to Hartwick,
Whose towering presence fills
In marvelous perfection
This hollow of the hills
Tis here we saw completed
The fabric of our dream.
The river's flow we came to know
As life's eternal stream.

Lift up your hearts to Hartwick
For priceless gifts of yore;
When from her founts of learning
You drank, who drink once more,
Wherever we may wander
From east to widest west
Our love of thee eternally
Abides within the breast.

Lift up your souls to Hartwick
And, lo, your spirits dwell
In full perpetual presence
Of her you loved so well.
Lift up your souls to Hartwick
And know the paths you trod
O'er vagrant ways in other days
Were leading you to God.

Dear Hartwick, alma mater,
Across the flooding years,
We bring tonight the tribute
Of love, and smiles, and tears.
Whatever gifts we offer,
If small or great they be,
Ah, Mother dear, tonight and here,
We consecrate to thee.

"Eventually—Why Not Now?"
The roads are now in good shape almost everywhere. The belated summertime is in our midst and the Call of All Outdoors is very very insistent. Four of the best motoring months on the calendar are ahead. So "Buy Your Car Now" week is a very timely prelude to the enjoyable months ahead of you.

We know you will find it difficult to resist the impulse to buy that car when you read all of the advertisements that are forthcoming. "Eventually—why not now?" is true but true. Take a tip from these columns, watch the advertisements carefully, telephone the dealer who sells the car which is nearest to your heart's desire, and have a demonstration.

Buy your car now—be happy in those pleasures it brings you—and content in the thought that you did right by putting the cost of the car back into circulation where it will do the country the greatest service.

CONCENTRATES FOR RATIONS

Taken From an Article by E. S. Savage, Professor of Animal Husbandry, New York College of Agriculture.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
A good rule to follow in all rations is to have at least three plants represented in the ration. There are seven factors which should be considered: (1) Bulk, (2) Digestibility, (3) Relation between the digestible protein and carbohydrates and fat, (4) Variety, (5) Suitability of the feeds to the animal and product, (6) Palatability, (7) Cost.

As an example, choosing the cheapest feeds relatively, considering nutritional values, suitability and all, we would recommend the following mixture of grains as suitable for dairy cows at present prices:
600 pounds distillers dried grains.
400 pounds gluten feed.
300 pounds wheat bran or brewers dried grains.
400 pounds hominy feed.
300 pounds cottonseed or oil meal.

RUNS OFF WITH FORD CAR.

Taken from Shed at Barn of Dr. Brand and Left on Miller Street. Yesterday John W. Shaver of the Wilson house reported to the police department that a Ford car with a small truck box at the rear was taken from the shed adjacent to the veterinary and livery stable of Dr. Brand on Market street the night previous and probably for a joy ride by some one who knew about the car.

The car was finally located on Miller street, where it had evidently been abandoned by the joy riders. Officer Brown has been detailed to investigate the case, and it is hoped that the offenders can be located and punished. The cases are becoming much too frequent.

False Alarm Gives Firemen Run.

An alarm was turned in from Box 61, corner River street and Wilcox avenue, shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When the firemen arrived on the scene, no trace of a fire could be found, but upon inquiry it was found that a little lad had been observed to climb the post on which the box was attached. While repairing a blow-out in a tire on the fire chief's auto, which occurred on the trip down, a little urchin was seen timidly approaching, and upon being confronted with the facts, confessed that he had pulled the lever. He was taken to police headquarters, where his name was found to be "Mike" Ferris, son of Joseph Ferris, corner of River and Ann streets, and that he had been caught several times before in attempting to turn in an alarm. After being given a fatherly talk and having given his promise to let the "red boxes" alone, he was taken to his home.

MUST PROVIDE OTHER GUARDS

TO RELIEVE TROOPS ENGAGED IN PROTECTING BRIDGES AND OTHER PROPERTY.

Probable That Early Meeting of Home Defense Committee of County Will Soon Be Held to Discuss Problem—Duty Devolves on Owners and Local Authorities.

For some time the federal and state authorities have assigned and provided units of the National Guard for the protection of railroad bridges and other property essential to the commercial life of the state but with the early approach of July 15, when all the units of the state troops are to be mustered into the federal service and sent to training camps, the question of men to take up the tasks that these troops must relinquish, is being considered and while no authoritative statement can be secured, it is believed that the duty will be placed upon the shoulders of the owners of the property to be protected and the local officials.

Oneonta is vitally interested in the subject, although aside from the state armory there is little property within the city limits requiring the presence of guards. The subject is being considered by the members of the Home Defense committee of the county and while no action has been taken, it is quite probable that an early meeting of the committee will be held and the subject considered.

The movement for the organization of a depot unit has made little progress here although the need seems quite important and the necessity for action urgent because the time of the departure of the companies now in the service is less than three weeks away. The special police officer of the city, while ready for emergency service, are not designed for service of this nature and will not be available except in extreme cases.

It is expected that the depot unit will be very shortly recruited. The old organization was in charge of F. M. H. Jackson, formerly a Lieutenant of Company G. He has the nucleus of an organization intact and while it is uncertain always to proceed with the formation of a depot unit until after it is a certainty that the older organization is to leave, it is now believed that ready response will be made when the call for volunteers for the depot unit is made.

TAKING DOG CENSUS.

New State Law Makes It Obligatory upon Authorities.

The police department of cities and the assessors of the towns are now, in accordance with the law recently passed, imposing a tax upon dogs with the aim in view of promoting the sheep industry, engaged in making a census of the dogs in their various communities. The police departments receive no additional pay, but the law directs that the assessors be paid for the work.

The census in the city is being taken by Officer Odell, and he has now listed 289 dogs and expects before the close of the month to succeed in locating approximately 499 dogs in the city. The state authorities, it is assumed, intend to get after those who fail to take out licenses for the dogs. Those residents of the city who own dogs should get busy and take out licenses for the year in accordance with the city ordinance, else after July 1 a larger license fee will be exacted by the state law.

HELPING THE RED CROSS

Manager Hathaway Generously Donates Gross Receipts of All Three Entertainments Today at Oneonta Theatre.

Today is Red Cross day at the Oneonta theatre. Today O. S. Hathaway furnishes the patrons of the theatre three splendid performances, which will be augmented by special features produced by local talent, and it's all for the usual price of admission, 10 cents. The proceeds from the three performances—every cent that is taken in at the window—will go to the Red Cross chapter of Oneonta.

Mr. Hathaway is making this liberal donation to the live cities in which he has theatres located. It is a patriotic pleasure on the part of Mr. Hathaway, and there should not be a vacant seat at any of the three performances today.

The afternoon performance begins promptly at 2:15. The pictures will be high class and there will be no curtailment in any manner in the character of the entertainment.

The first evening performance will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. Miss Josephine Lauren will render solos at both of the evening performances. In addition, special music will be given by local talent. A number of young women have been rehearsing for the past week a feature that will no doubt prove surprising to everyone present.

It has been suggested by the committee that tickets might be distributed among people who feel they cannot afford to attend picture shows. Such an act would serve a double purpose. It will enlarge the treasury of the local Red Cross and furnish pleasure to deserving people.

Those of us who are not called upon to fight our own battles for the preservation of this great republic we are permitted to live in, should not hesitate at a time like this to give liberally toward the support of the Red Cross work. The Oneonta opera house should be filled to capacity at each of the three performances. If you can't go yourself, buy a ticket and give it to someone who can.

Mr. Hathaway wants the receipts large, and Oneonta should make them large to show the appreciation of the patriotism of the man who has made possible this splendid avenue of service to the Red Cross work.

TWO RUFLIAN'S LAND IN JAIL.

Officers Fox and Stapleton Make Good Capture at South End of D. & H. Yard

Two ruffians, alleged to have been in Schenectady, who made themselves generally obnoxious about the south end of the D. & H. yard in this city yesterday forenoon were finally captured by Officers Fox and Stapleton of the railroad police force, after a two hours' chase over the hills west of the south end yesterday. The officers were assisted in the capture of the second one by Private R. Cole of Company G, First regiment, who demonstrated that he is made of the right stuff for a good soldier. On learning that the fellows had threatened anyone who interfered with their ruffian conduct with heavy ironbolts Cole volunteered for this emergency also and aided materially.

The fellows, who gave the names of High Hamell and Mike Candello and their place of residence as Schenectady, started in by stealing the contents of the dinner pails of Fred and Roy Trindle and throwing about and wasting such parts of the contents as they did not eat. When company employees attempted to stop their depredations the fellows picked up heavy bolts and other iron lying about and threatened the lives of any who interfered. Word was gotten to the two officers named who were on a train south bound and they dropped off at the Glen bridge. The fellows beat a hasty retreat, for strategic reasons probably they would say, and the officers gave chase. They hid about in the bushes and behind rocks on the side hill but were finally rounded up after a display of firearms that made onlookers think of the battle front in France.

When arraigned before Justice Peter VanWoert later in the day their claims to being hungry with so much labor in demand proved unavailing and they were given six months in the county jail. Last evening Officer Horton, who had Johnson and VanHoesen to deliver to the sheriff, loaded the quartet in George B. Shearer's car and landed them all at the county jail an hour later.

The fellows are believed to be slackers as they had no legal evidence of having registered under the conscription act and before holiday time, arrives when their term expires their record at Schenectady will be investigated and whether or not they are slackers ascertained.

RED CROSS DAY.

Special Program With Entire Receipts For Most Worthy Cause.

Mr. Hathaway, owner and manager of the Oneonta theatre, has set aside today in his several theatres as Red Cross day at which time he will turn over the gross receipts to this timely cause. A special program has been arranged, which will be a surprise to all who attend, beside the excellent picture program, which consists of a five-act World feature, "The Bondage of Fear," with charming Ethel Clayton and a Pathe scenic reel. Red Cross girls will be in charge. Admission prices will remain the same, 10 cents, or what you feel you can give. Owing to the large night attendance the matinee performance should be a feature. ### MARRIAGES.

Waki-Ayers.

Tuesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welcome H. Parish of Laurens, occurred a quiet wedding, which united in marriage Olive May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Ayes of Kirkwood, and Leon Prentice Waki of Andover. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Loucks, pastor of the Christian churches of Laurens and Hartwick. They were unattended.

The residence was prettily decorated with ferns, daisies, and flags. The bride was gowned in white silk batiste and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. A wedding dinner preceded the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Binghamton Central High school, also of the Oneonta State Normal school and for the past two years has been an efficient teacher of the Laurens High school.

The groom is a successful farmer and one of Andover's most enterprising young gentlemen.

Among the numerous wedding gifts were a black walnut bedroom suit from the bride's parents, and money, cut glass, silver and linen from relatives and friends.

Many friends unite in extending them best wishes for happy and prosperous wedded lives. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Waki will be at home in Andover.

Wemple-Lucas.

Miss Blanche E. Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Agar of Oneonta, and George C. Wemple of Syracuse were married in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., last Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. K. Morris of the Baptist church of that place. The couple will reside in Syracuse.

DR. MILLS' CAR DOES STUNT.
Starts on Rampage and Comes to Grief Against Pole.

Last evening, while Dr. Mills was making a professional call on Upper Main street, he left his Ford coupe standing in front of the house with the engine running idle. In some manner unknown to the owner it started for down town and after swerving back and forth across the street in a very unbecoming manner for a ways, it collided with a telephone pole near the residence of M. P. Wellman and with such force as to do it considerable damage. It was not true to its proverbial ability to start off again after being righted up, but will require numerous new parts and a visit to the repair shop before it can be used.

It is believed that there are other sums to come in before the accounts of the War Fund committee are finally closed up.

Falls From Motorcycle.
Turning about to say goodbye to a friend, as he threw the gear of the motorcycle he was driving into high speed, near Oneonta, Plains school house, Monday evening, William Shute, aged 17, lost control of the machine and before it could be righted he was thrown from the seat and dragged for some distance along the stage road.

Robert Barnett, who was following, soon reached his side and found him in a dazed condition and bleeding from numerous wounds about the face and arms. He assisted him to his home, Lower Chestnut street. A physician was called and while it was found that no bones were broken his injuries were such as would necessitate his being confined to his home for several days.

SNOWBALLING FOR RECRUITS

EFFORTS TO SWELL NUMBER OF VOLUNTEERS DURING RECRUITING WEEK.

Sergeant Bunde Arrives from Poughkeepsie and Will Traverse This Section Urging Young Men to Enlist.

Following the recommendation of President Wilson that the present week be observed as Recruiting week to bring the regular army up to the standard, which will require 70,000 volunteers during the week, the headquarters of this recruiting district at Poughkeepsie is sending out officers on snowballing tours in efforts to enlist young men. The President calls upon all unmarried men between the ages of 15 and 40 years who have no dependents and who are not engaged in pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war, to enlist during the week.

Sergeant Bunde from Poughkeepsie arrived last night from Otego on one of these snowballing recruiting tours and hopes to add a goodly number of recruits who will join and proceed with him on the tour. Today he plans to visit Davenport, West Kortright, Kortright, Hobart and Stamford, and on Thursday he expects to call at South Jefferson, Blenheim, Sunmit and Richmondville. Friday he will return to Oneonta, stopping at East Worcester, Worcester, Schenectady, Maryland and Colliers. Saturday he will go on to Poughkeepsie.

Sergeant Bunde reports the following record of the principal points in the Poughkeepsie district for the month to June 23: Poughkeepsie 114, Binghamton 55, Elmira 195, Tonawanda 190, Oneonta 23. He thinks Oneonta is not keeping the pace, although he fails to consider the population of the city as compared with the others. The exhortation he wished carried in The Star that this section "awaken and do its bit" is passed along to readers with approval.
